Fenton — Scouting has been a tradition for young men for 104 years, and there have been more than 120 million scouts to join the ranks.

Parker Trecha of Fenton is the third young man to earn all 135 of the merit badges in Michigan. At 14, he is also the third youngest ever, and the third non-Eagle to earn them all, out of the 230 total Boy Scouts who have earned all the merit badges.
